Description :

Prsentation de l'diteurCarole Seddon hates Christmas it all seems rather a waste of time. So when her neighbour and best friend, Jude, drags her along to go shopping at a local store called Gallimaufry she can feel her inner-Scrooge knocking. But the sales are on and even Carole cant resist a bargain. Then a few days later Gallimaufry is burnt down and a body is discovered in the ashes. It seems like a tragic accident but no-one can die of natural causes when a gun is involved. The victim was young, pretty and successful who could possibly want her dead? With a host of suspects the lady detectives know they have their work cut out for them. And as they dig deeper they discover a host of half-truths and lies. It seems that someone in Fethering has a deep, dark, deadly secret and is prepared to kill to keep it.Revue de presse`Simon Brett is the supreme of crime comfort-reading.' --Daily Mail`The master of cosy crime, Simon Brett has written a dozen

Fethering mysteries of which The Shooting in the Shop is the latest to appear in paperback. With his eye for the pretensions of an inward-looking community, Brett brings a light touch to what otherwise would be a grisly tale of deception and double-dealing.' --Daily Mail
